Leopard ALERT!

Uttanahalli-Chamundi Hill Road closed daily from 6 pm to 6 am

A video grab of the leopard walking on the parapet wall atop Chamundi Hill recently.

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (MTY&BCT)- In response to frequent leopard sightings along Chamundi Hill Road over the past month, the Forest Department has deployed patrol teams and imposed precautionary restrictions to ensure public safety.

Chamundi Hill is a natural habitat of leopards and they are frequently sighted in the area. The Hill, which has a dense forest cover, provides a conducive environment for leopards. However, the rapid urbanisation and activities are leading to frequent man-animal conflicts.

5-yr-old child injured in accident succumbs

Aunt's begging, villagers' generosity and MLA's effort go in vain

MLA Darshan

Nanjangud, Sept. 12 (CM,RK&BS)- In a heart-wrenching incident, the family of a five-year-old girl child critically injured in a road accident was forced to go door-to-door seeking financial help to pay a hospital bill of Rs. 1.5 lakh. The child succumbed to injuries close to midnight hours yesterday.

The victim, Aadya, daughter of Mahesh and Rani of Hedathale village in Nanjangud taluk, sustained grievous injuries when the motorbike she was travelling in with her parents was hit by three youths riding triple-seat on another two-wheeler. The accident occurred on the Dodda Kavalande-Nanjangud Road on Wednesday evening.

All six people involved — Aadya, her parents and the three youths — were critically injured and rushed to a private hospital in Mysuru. There, hospital authorities demanded Rs. 1.5 lakh upfront to begin treatment for the child, throwing the family into a desperate situation. With no immediate resources, Aadya's aunt, Mangalamma, went house-to-house across Hedathale, pleading for contributions to save her niece's life. The villagers responded generously, pooling together Rs. 80,000.

Though they fell short of required amount, Nanjangud MLA Darshan Dhruvanarayan intervened, personally convincing hospital management to begin treatment immediately without insisting on full payment. He also assured the family that he would take care of medical expenses. The girl, after initial treatment was moved to Cheluvamba Hospital upon family's request. Unfortunately, the child succumbed to her injuries last night.

Darshan said, "it was unfortunate that the baby died. I made every effort to save the child and provided financial help. I will continue to help the family to get compensation."

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

HANDLE EVERYTHING WITH CARE: One of the many pieces of advice I have given my children in their dealings with people is to never harm anyone and to always leave people as good as they found them. If by chance they were thrown into the company of unethical and wicked people, I cautioned them to stay away by all means.

Recently I realised that, like leaving people as good as we found them, the same applies to the homes of others that we may visit or rent, hotel rooms, cinema halls or public transport that we use. Property that belongs to others must be handled with care and consciousness. After all, even inanimate things have an energy of their own, as we sometimes discover to our surprise. I have had friends recount tales of their four-or two-wheelers that never ever stalled or let them down. During festivals like Vijayadashami and Ayudha Pooja, don't we place books and tools of the trade, after cleaning, at the altar and ask God to bless and crown our efforts with success as we use them?

Respect for public property or spaces that belong to others does not come easily to many. I came to know a few days ago that commuters wanting to get somewhere in a hurry use umbrella handles and other implements to prevent our brand-new Metro doors from closing. Vandalising and giving vent to our anger by breaking or disfiguring with graffiti monuments, temple walls, heritage buildings and such like is simply unforgivable, as the damage could be permanent.

When a tenant of my father's vacated after a long tenancy, I was moved to tears because they had taken such good care of the house and treated it like they would their own. There were others who also left us in pain for the damage they caused by gross misuse and neglect while they occupied the space...

In that momentary delusion that we can reduce inanimate objects to nothing, let us not forget the Creator who gave us all we have. Hurting His creations is akin to hurting Him. — Sudha Umashanker in Deccan Herald

Prankster slug rings doorbells late at night

Schwabach: Police in Germany were called to an apartment building on a report of someone repeatedly ringing doorbells late at night and discovered the ding-dong-ditch culprit was a slug.

Residents of the building in Schwabach, Bavaria, called Police when their doorbells were repeatedly triggered late at night, suspecting local youths to be behind the prank. Police arrived and discovered the alleged prankster was in fact a slug crawling across a panel, triggering several doorbells in the process. The slug was released to a nearby grassy area with a warning.

"There was a slug sitting right on our nameplate. You could even see its slime trail as it crawled across the sensors," a resident named Dominik said.

Watch ads to get toilet paper at public toilets

Beijing: Videos featuring smart toilet paper dispensers that require people to watch short ads to receive toilet paper strips in public toilets have gone viral in China.

Ever since it started its new era of booming national tourism, China has experimented with ingenious ways of preventing toilet paper waste. Back in 2017, international news outlets reported the introduction of facial scanners connected to toilet paper dispensers that only offered one 60-cm-long strip of paper per scan, or every nine minutes.

It was reported that the system was implemented at popular tourism spots where people took as much toilet paper as possible for fear of not finding any when they came back later. AI technology was introduced in 2019, when toilet paper dispensers began dispensing strips of paper once every 10 minutes per individual user. But now, technology has evolved even more with toilet paper dispensers that play ads to release short strips of paper.

Ballot papers in place of EVMs: A retrograde move

Sir,

The decision of the Karnataka State Cabinet to recommend to the State Election Commission (SEC) to use ballot papers instead of the EVMs, in the upcoming local body polls, both urban and rural, is regressive and antediluvian. Of course, the relevant Acts and Rules have to be amended to facilitate this changeover backwards.

The reason cited for this decision is that there are allegations, though not substantiated, from the Congress and other Opposition parties that the EVMs are being manipulated at the instance of the BJP and that ballot papers are safe.

This logic is somewhat similar to saying that we should travel by bullock carts and not by motor vehicles since the latter are not safe.

Recently, Air India's Boeing plane crashed near Ahmedabad, causing a large number of deaths. Should we then stop travelling by air and revert to travelling overseas by ships as was being done before the invention of the aeroplane?

Those who have conducted elections for decades know that EVMs are quite safe and have now become indispensable. Maximum electoral malpractices have occurred when ballot papers were used.

Moreover, the counting process, apart from being cumbersome and time-consuming, would never be accurate with the ballot papers. Apart from human errors, the issue of 'invalid votes' at the time of counting of votes would be a matter of concern.

Many a time, when the margin of difference between two candidates is very narrow, which is quite common in the local bodies polls, we can't be sure which candidate actually won the election.

The SEC, if it is truly independent, should firmly record its opposition to the holding of polls with ballot papers, as it would make its task burdensome.

Besides, this move to hold elections with ballot papers would go against the concept of the green initiative and paperless governance, as crores of ballot papers have to be printed, which would mean the axing of a large number of trees.

Banu Mushtaq

Deepa Bhasthi

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (PM&BCT)- Members of the Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) Mysuru district unit staged a protest at Gandhi Square yesterday, opposing the Karnataka Government's decision to invite International Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate this year's Mysuru Dasara festivities.

The protest was driven by two key issues: The selection of Banu Mushtaq over Deepa Bhasthi, the translator credited with the English version of the award-winning work and the recent stone-pelting incident during a Ganesha immersion procession at Maddur.

Addressing the protesters, BJP Mahila Morcha leader Hema Nandeesh questioned the Government's choice.

"Despite our repeated appeals, only Banu Mushtaq has been invited. The Booker Prize was awarded for a translated work, yet Deepa Bhasthi, whose translation made it possible, has been completely ignored. Why this bias?" she asked.

The protesters demanded that if Banu Mushtaq is to inaugurate the Nada Habba, she must show due respect to Hindu religious sentiments. "She should apply 'sindhoor' and receive a traditional welcome. If she refuses, she must not be allowed to participate," they declared.

VHP activists staging a protest at Gandhi Square in city yesterday.

VHP District Vice-President Jagadish Hebbar accused Banu Mushtaq of previously making disrespectful remarks about Kannadambe Goddess Bhuvaneshwari.

"If she is inaugurating the festival, she must wear a 'tilak' and accept prasadam from the Chamundeshwari Temple as a mark of reverence," he said.

Adding to this, VHP Mysuru Joint Secretary Arunachalam stressed that both the author and the translator deserve recognition. "Since the Booker Prize was awarded for a translated work, inviting both would have been the rightful thing to do," he said.

The group also issued a warning that if Banu Mushtaq attends the inauguration without applying 'sindhoor,' they would stage a black flag protest at Chamundi Hill.

Former Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa, BJP leader Mallaraj Urs and Hindu activists Madhu Shankar, Ambika, Paduvarahalli Ramakrishna, Rakesh Bhatt, Shivu Patel and M. Shobha were among those who took part in the protest.

CPK says merit, not faith, should decide

Ignored for years, Dr. C.P. Krishnakumar speaks out on Dasara guest selection

CPK

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (SPN&BCT)- A video of renowned Kannada writer Dr. C.P. Krishnakumar (CPK) expressing his disappointment over the Karnataka Government's choice of chief guest for this year's Dasara inauguration has gone viral on social media, sparking widespread debate.

In the video, the veteran litterateur questions why his name was repeatedly overlooked despite his decades-long contributions to Kannada literature and culture.

This year, the Government has invited International Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate the Nada Habba.

"Leave aside her religion — Banu Mushtaq's achievements are commendable. But I am also qualified to inaugurate Dasara. The Government has ignored me not just this year, but for many years now," CPK said.

He stressed that seniority and literary merit should have been given due weightage in the selection process. "Several eminent personalities had recommended my name. Even Kuvempu would often say, 'Why should I be arrogant about anything?' This is not about Banu Mushtaq's faith. It's about recognising contributions and upholding cultural values," he remarked.

CPK also recalled his association with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, adding that the Government could have considered him for the honour. "If religion becomes a deciding factor, it becomes an obstacle. That is not what Dasara stands for," he cautioned.

The video has stirred conversations in literary and civic circles, with many echoing CPK's sentiments and calling for a more inclusive, merit-based approach to selecting individuals for such prestigious cultural honours.

CESC urges safety amid dazzling Dasara lights

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (BCT) - The Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) has urged public to enjoy dazzling festive lighting displays during Dasara while prioritising safety.

As in previous years, major roads, circles and public spaces across the city have been decked with stunning electric illuminations, adding vibrancy and charm to Mysuru and amplifying the spirit of Dasara. These breathtaking displays attract lakhs of visitors, making safety a top concern during public viewing.

CESC has implemented several precautionary measures during the installation of the lights, with a strong focus on protecting electricity consumers and the general public. However, the Corporation stressed that vigilance and adherence to safety norms are a shared responsibility.

"CESC places highest priority on the safety of its consumers and the general public. While enjoying Dasara lighting displays, citizens must remain vigilant and follow safety precautions. It is essential to maintain a safe distance from decorative lighting poles and avoid touching them. Extra caution is advised during rainy conditions," said K.M. Munigopal Raju, Managing Director of CESC.

24X7 HELPLINE 1912

- Maintain safe distance from lighting poles.
- Do not stand near lighting poles for photos or videos.
- Exercise extra caution during rainy weather and avoid approaching decorative poles.
- Motorists and pedestrians should stay alert while moving near illuminated replicas and decorative installations.

For electricity-related complaints or issues related to lighting displays, citizens can call 24x7 Helpline at 1912. By following these safety measures, visitors can enjoy the grandeur of Mysuru's Dasara illumination without worry, CESC stated.

MGP meeting on Sept. 14

To launch Mysuru Tree Census Project

Mysuru, Sept. 12 - Like Bengaluru, Mysuru is marching fast to become a concrete jungle. The massacre of 40 fully grown trees on April 13 on Hyder Ali Road in Nazarbad should be a recent reminder of such efforts by our authorities charged with the responsibility of promoting sustainable living.

Needless to state the obvious that it is trees which are an absolute necessity to maintain a healthy, green and spiritual life style not only for human beings but also for all other species.

To contribute towards this critical need, Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) is launching a first-of-its-kind Mysuru Tree Census Project on Sept. 14.

Nitte University has completed such a project in 2024 under the leadership of Dr. Smitha Hegde.

Dr. Hegde, now with the Centre for Advanced Learning, an educational institution in Mangaluru, has joined the efforts of MGP to undertake such a tree census in Mysuru. Students from Vidyavardhaka College of Engineering (VVCE) led by Prof. R. Karthik and JSS Pharmacy College led by Dr. T. M. Pramod Kumar, Dean, will be participating as volunteers to conduct surveys.

Data will be collected on locations, species, age, condition (electrical wires, concrete, tree guards etc) for all 65 Wards of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

At the meeting to be held on Sunday (Sept. 14) at MGP Office, 6/1, Vivekananda Road, Yadavagiri, at 4 pm, Dr. Smitha Hegde and Sanjay Dattatri, an expert in Software (who is spearheading the project for MGP) will lead the discussion on tree census project. A formal MoU will be signed by the representatives of the participating institutions on the occasion. For details contact MGP on Ph: 0821-2515150.

Alleged anti-Hindu policies by Congress

Yatnal warns of 'Nepal-like situation in Karnataka'

Mysuru, Sept.12 (BLU&DM)- Cautioning the Congress Government against what he termed as "targeting Hindus for vote-bank politics," expelled Vijayapura BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal warned of a Nepal-like revolt in Karnataka if the State Government continues its anti-Hindu stance.

Speaking to reporters at Chamundi Hill after offering prayers to Goddess Chamundeshwari this morning, Yatnal said he was headed to Maddur following an invitation from Hindu activists. Maddur recently witnessed massive protests after stone-pelting on a Ganesha idol procession.

Yatnal claimed that during recent visits by BJP leaders to Maddur, local activists shouted his name in support, signalling people's growing anger against the Siddaramaiah-led Congress Government.

"The public is closely watching the actions of this Government. If

Basanagouda Patil Yatnal

Congress continues its anti-Hindu policies, it will not survive its full five-year term," he declared, also accusing the Government of rampant corruption.

However, Yatnal did not spare his own party's leadership, alleging that certain BJP leaders were engaged in 'adjustment politics' with Congress for personal gain.

Responding to an FIR registered against him in Maddur, Yatnal alleged that an illegal mosque in the area was the source of the stones used during the violence.

"The mosque in question has no valid documents. What was the Government doing when stones were being stockpiled in its premises?" he questioned.

Opposition to Banu Mushtaq

Referring to the State Government's decision to invite International Booker Prize winner Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate this year's Mysuru Dasara on Sept 22, Yatnal strongly objected to the move.

"Those who shower flowers on Goddess Chamundeshwari during the inauguration must have faith in Sanatana Dharma. Banu Mushtaq, by her own past statements and actions, has shown that she opposes idol worship. It is wrong for the Government to select such a person," he argued.

Yatnal ended on a fiery note, warning that CM Siddaramaiah's political career would meet its downfall at the very shrine of Chamundi Hill, where the Dasara festivities begin.

State Government names Kuvempu for Bharat Ratna

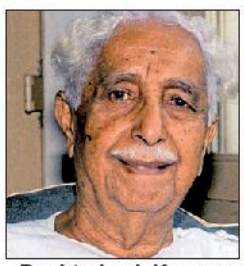
'Karnataka Ratna' announced for actors Dr. Vishnuvardhan and B. Sarojadevi

Bengaluru, Sept. 12 (Agencies) - In a landmark decision, the Karnataka Government has decided to recommend Central Government to confer Bharat Ratna on Rashtrakavi Kuvempu. Additionally, the State Cabinet decided to posthumously confer Karnataka Ratna award on noted Kannada film actors Dr. Vishnuvardhan and B. Sarojadevi.

Addressing the media persons after the Cabinet meeting, Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs H.K. Patil announced these resolutions yesterday, emphasising the State's commitment to honouring individuals, who have made exceptional contributions to literature, arts and culture.

Kuvempu, a towering figure in Kannada literature, is celebrated for his profound impact on the literary landscape. His works, including Jnanpith winning epic Sri Ramayana Darshanam, have left an indelible mark on Indian literature. The proposal to award him Bharat Ratna reflects a recognition of his national significance.

Vishnuvardhan, popularly known as 'Sahasa Simha' was an actor with over 200 Kannada films. His performances earned him numerous accolades, including the Filmfare Lifetime Achievement Award - South in



Rashtrakavi Kuvempu

B. Sarojadevi

2002. The State Government had previously renamed its annual lifetime achievement award given for long-serving film personalities in his honour, calling it Dr. Vishnuvardhan Award.

Sarojadevi, fondly known as 'Abhinaya Saraswati' was a trailblazer in Indian cinema, acting in over 200 films across multiple languages. She received Padma Shri in 1969 and Padma Bhushan in 1992, among other honours. Her passing in July 2025 marked the end of an era in Indian cinema.

It may be recalled that many senior actors had met Chief Minister Siddaramaiah with requests to confer Karnataka Ratna on Dr. Vishnuvardhan. Recently, the demolition of Dr. Vishnu memorial at Abhiman Studio in Bengaluru had also sparked a row triggering protests from his fans and condemnations from film fraternity.

Dasara debutant Srikanta selected as Pattada Aane

Mysuru, Sept.12 (MTY&VNS)- Member of the erstwhile Mysore Royal Family, Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, has selected 56-year-old elephant Srikanta as the Pattada Aane (Royal Elephant) for this year's Dasara festivities to be held inside the Mysore Palace. This marks Srikanta's debut appearance at the iconic festival.

In addition, 11-year-old female elephant Hemavathi, youngest among the Dasara jumbos, has been chosen as Pattada Nishane Aane (Royal Insignia Elephant).

Last evening, Pramoda Devi inspected seven elephants — Dhananjaya, Mahendra, Gopi, Kanjan, Srikanta, Ekalavya and Prashantha — along with female elephants Roopa and Hemavathi at the Savari Thotti of Mysore Palace. Following the inspection, Srikanta was officially chosen to carry the royal honours.

Srikanta, housed at Mathigodu Elephant Camp, was captured on Feb. 18, 2014, from Shanivarsanthe Range in Hassan Division. It was named in memory of the late royal scion Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar.

Pramoda Devi had recently visited Mathigodu (see pic) to inspect Srikanta, a visit that sparked widespread speculation about his selection as Pattada Aane,which has become a reality.

Speeding to pay...

Fifty percent rebate on traffic fines to end today

Rs. 12 crore fines collected till yesterday; Rs. 2 crore collection expected today

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (RK&KS)- With the fifty percent rebate on e-challan traffic fines ending today, motorists with multiple traffic violation pending cases are thronging all Traffic Police Stations in city to clear their cases by paying the fines.

Huge rush is being witnessed at Devaraja, Krishnaraja (KR), VV Puram, Kuvempunagar, Siddarthanagar and Narasimharaja (NR) Traffic Police Stations, as today is the last date to pay the fines with fifty percent discount and the Government is not keen on extending the last date.

The fifty percent rebate began on Aug, 23 and till yesterday night Rs. 12 crore fine has been collected in city and over five lakh pending cases have been cleared, said Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP-Traffic) M. Shivashankar to Star of Mysore.

The ACP further said that a request to extend the date has been made to the Government by Mysuru, Bengaluru, Mangaluru, Hubli, Dharwad and Belgaum Police as more and more people with traffic violation cases are rushing to the Police Stations to pay the fines and added that Rs. 2 crore fine collection is expected today in city alone.

Also, Police have put up kiosks near Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple and near City Railway Station.

Leopard Alert!

On Aug. 9, a video of a leopard attacking a stray dog atop Chamundi Hill was caught on camera. The video was captured on the CCTV camera of a restaurant located close to Chamundeshwari Temple and a residential area at 2.45 am, when the residents were asleep.

Since Aug. 22, leopards have been repeatedly spotted in various parts of Chamundi Hill. A leopard cub was seen perched on a roadside retaining wall near Devikere, while a full-grown leopard was observed sitting and staring at motorists along Uttanahalli Road.

In another incident, a leopard was spotted on Nayakara Street, where it attacked a stray dog, leaving it injured.

These recurring sightings have sparked fear and concern among local residents. Acting on widespread public complaints, the Forest Department has taken proactive measures to prevent any untoward incidents.

Personnel have been deployed across the Hill, with intensified patrolling along key roads to monitor leopard movements. Staffs have been instructed to respond immediately to any reported sightings and ensure the safety of residents and visitors.

To minimise risks, the public has been urged to strictly follow safety guidelines. Solitary movement along Hill roads during the early morning hours, before sunrise and after dusk must be avoided.

The route between Uttanahalli and Chamundi Hill will remain closed daily from 6 pm to 6 am, with both vehicular and pedestrian movement restricted during these hours.

Leopard sightings can be reported to the Forest Department on cell numbers of RFO: 9740117319 or DRFO: 9481990930.

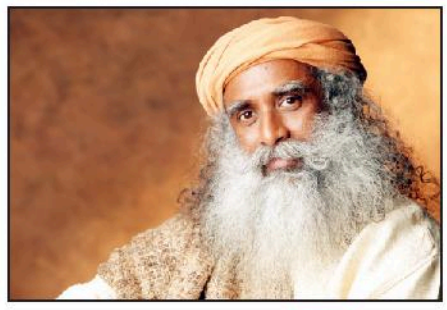
MYSTIC'S MUSINGS



By Sadhguru - Founder, Isha Foundation

Youth & Truth

Sadhguru: Youth is life that is still in the making. It is still in a state where it is not too conceited and lost. Youth is a life that suggests hope, seeking and the longing to know the truth about life.

The word "truth" has been used in many ways, and most people think truth is some otherworldly stuff. So what exactly is truth? Look at it this way: what truly works is truth in any sphere of life.

For example, if you want to walk, is it better to walk upon your feet or upon your head? If you walk on your head, you will not walk far — you will only end up bald. Obviously, it is better to walk on your feet. I am giving a very simplistic example, but this is the essence of what truth means. In different dimensions of life, what is it that really works? Seeking this is seeking for truth.

Bharat has been a culture that has always been a land of seekers, never a land of believers. The question is: Do you have assumptions and concretised ideas about everything, or are you willing to seek the truth about any aspect of life because you are interested that it happens in the best possible way?

India has the fortune that 50 percent of the nation's population is below 25 years of age. No other nation on the planet has this fortune. But to make this into a true fortune and not a disaster, youth should become seekers of truth. They should not get adhered to some ideology, belief system or philosophy.

> "It is time the populations of the world, particularly the youth, move from religion to responsibility. What you make out of your life is 100% your responsibility. If you do not seek, then you are not a youth. Do not become old when you are young..."

This is what being a youth means: you are not willing to settle for that which is false. You want to find out what really works on the level of your body, your mind, your emotion, your life energy, your relationship with the rest of the world — in every sphere of life.

If this search and seeking is given up, you will no longer be youth. You become old when you are young. You settle down and prepare for the grave. Your date of birth does not decide whether you are youth or old. Have you made conclusions about life or are you still open and seeking to know the nature of life — this is what makes you either youthful or old. It is important that every life stays youthful. Especially for the youth of this nation and the world, it is very important you are seekers of truth. Only then will you remain youthful.

It is time the populations of the world, particularly the youth, move from religion to responsibility. What you make out of your life is 100% your responsibility. It is not the responsibility of the stars, the planets or the powers above. It is in your hands to create this life the way you want it. This is the fundamental of being youthful — you are willing to take responsibility for everything that you are. You have not become a life that looks up at the stars about, "Why am I miserable? Why am I not successful? Why is my life not beautiful?" You are not looking up. You are willing to look inward and seek answers. That means you are in pursuit of truth.

Many years ago, Swami Vivekananda said, "Give me one hundred youth who are truly committed. I will change the face of this nation." Are we so impotent that we cannot produce one hundred youth like this? We must be able to produce millions of youth who are truly committed to know what is the truth about our existence, what is the truth about our success and failures, what is the truth about the beautiful aspects and the ugliness of our life. If you do not seek, then you are not a youth. Do not become old when you are young.

Nagabharana lashes out at freebie culture

Mysuru, Sept. 12 (MK&BS)- Noted film director and former Chairman of Kannada Development Authority (KDA) T.S. Nagabharana expressed deep concern over the growing freebie culture, saying it is making people complacent and lazy.

Speaking after inaugurating the Vidyarthi Parishat (Student Council) and Prathibha Vedike (Talent Forum) at A.P.J. Abdul Kalam Auditorium of SBRR Mahajana First Grade College, Nagabharana made a veiled reference to the Karnataka Government's guarantee schemes, ridiculing the obsession with free handouts.

"Bitti bhagya (free fortune) has become the trend now, with people hankering for freebies instead of earning a living. Bitti Bus... Bitti Rice... Ellavu Bitti... Konege Baduku Bittiyagide — free bus, free rice, everything free… ultimately, life itself has become free," he lamented.

"Life and work are interconnected. Work should be part of one's daily existence, but sadly, life today is reduced to a culture of freebies."

> Bitti bhagya* (free fortune) has become the trend now, with people hankering for freebies instead of earning a living. Bitti Bus... Bitti Rice... Ellavu Bitti... Konege Baduku Bittiyagide — free bus, free rice, everything free... ultimately, life itself has become free.
> — T.S. Nagabharana speaking at SBRR Mahajana First Grade College in city.

Highlighting Karnataka's rich cultural and philosophical legacy, Nagabharana said the Indian Constitution drew inspiration from the Anubhava Mantapa of the 12th century. Vachana literature, he noted, emphasises Kayaka (dignity of labour) and Dasoha (selfless service through mass feeding), underscoring that every individual should engage in productive work.

He urged youths to grow into strong and resilient individuals, comparing them to a "mighty banyan tree." "Leadership quality alone is not enough; what truly matters is service quality," he asserted.

Describing himself as a "soldier of Kannada," Nagabharana said, "I have always strived to keep the Kannada flag flying high in Indian cinema. Kannadigas and the Kannada language are second to none. We must take pride in calling ourselves Kannadigas. Kannada is unique, with its rare quality of having scientific grammar and harmony between spoken and written forms."

The event was attended by Mahajana Education Society President T. Muralidhar Bhagavat, Secretary Dr. T. Vijayalakshmi Bhagavat, Director Dr. C.K. Renukarya, CEO Dr. S.R. Ramesh, Principal Dr. B.R. Jayakumari, Head of Kannada Department Dr. H.R. Thimmegowda, Conveners M. Nagesh and Dr. P.G. Pushparani.

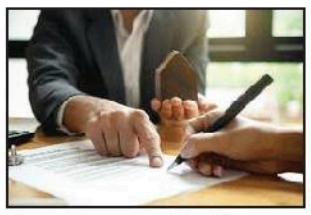
WORD OF THE DAY

Stipulate



Pronunciation: STIP-yuh-layt (verb).
Meaning: To stipulate is to demand or require something as part of an agreement.
Origin: Like many terms used in the legal profession, stipulate, an English word since the 17th century, has its roots in Latin. It comes from stipulatus, the past participle of stipulari, a verb meaning "to demand a guarantee (from a prospective debtor)." In Roman law, oral contracts were deemed valid only if they followed a proper question-and-answer format; stipulate was sometimes used specifically of this same process of contract making, though it also could be used more generally for any means of making a contract or agreement. The "to specify as a condition or requirement" meaning of stipulate also dates to the 17th century, and is the sense of the word most often encountered today.
Example: "Nilsson's reputation preceded her. The New York Times wrote of her: 'Christine Nilsson, the Met's first diva in 1883, could not only stipulate by contract her choice of roles, but could prohibit their performance by any other soprano in the same season.'" —Elise Taylor and Stephanie Sporn, Vogue, 20 June 2025.

THE ODD WORD

Sallet

Light round helmet.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The salt of the earth

Meaning: People who are described as 'The salt of the earth' are those who are considered to be of great worth and reliability.
Origin: The phrase 'The salt of the earth' derives from the Bible, Matthew 5:13 (King James Version): Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men. The positivity towards salt in this phrase conflicts with many other uses of the word salt, which has also been used to express negative concepts; for example, in the Middle Ages, salt was spread on land to poison it, as a punishment to landowners who had transgressed against society in some way. It seems that the 'excellent' meaning in 'the salt of the earth' was coined in reference to the value of salt. This is reflected in other old phrases too, for example, the aristocratic and powerful of the earth were 'above the salt' and valued workers were 'worth their salt'. 'The salt of the earth' was first published in English in Chaucer's Summoner's Tale, circa 1386, although Chaucer undoubtedly took his lead from Latin versions of the Bible: Ye been the salt of the erthe and the savour.

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
